

Programme Specific Outcome

BA Political Science, Journalism, Sociology (PJS)

- The student who successfully completes BA (PJS) would be able to analyse the real life situations in the contemporary socio economic scenario.
- She would easily adapt herself to the existing situations in society as she would have studied Society in depth, which helps her in understanding the dynamism working beneath the society.
- An in-depth study of Political Science and Sociology would help the student in becoming a better Journalist.
- The student would respond more responsibly to situations in political and social life. Hence, she would be a more accountable Journalist reacting practically to all situations in public life.
- Her employability in the areas of Print & Electronic Media would be very high.